

Knowledge Center Catalog

Knowledge Center Catalog supported in KOHA provides all the CIMMYT library catalog and bibliographic information for journal articles, books, annual reports, theses, and others.

CIMMYT has special collections of different kinds of documents in order to support the different research programs.

We conform our collection based on users needs, so you can find conventional and grey literature of the most important publishers in the research area.

Knowledge Center Catalog is a platform where we get access to these resources doing basic and advanced searches and provide you access to journal subscriptions and data bases. It also provides information about recent items and the news in the Knowledge Center Blog.

KOHA

Koha is the first open source Integrated Library System (ILS) and the most used worldwide by public, school and special libraries around the world.

The name comes from a Māori term for a gift or donation.
